Thought for the Week

"Every father should remember that one day his son will follow his example, not his advice."

~ Charles Kettering

From the Headmaster

MR P VILJOEN

As we move towards the end of the term I would like to confirm that the checking of scripts and marks will take place next week.

This is an integral part of the learning process as staff will spend significant time on teach back strategies – that is, going over the answers of the various questions in the various subjects which were examined. So I urge you to ensure that boys are on time and at school next week.

The daily times for next week have also been adjusted slightly, so please refer to the information published on the D6 communicator to avoid confusion. Reports will be handed to the boys on the last Friday of term, so please ensure you receive these from your son!

A reminder to our grade 12 parents that our grade 12 teachers will be running extra lessons during the first week of the holiday. These lessons are compulsory for our boys who needs to spend extra time to ensure that they will be well prepared for the prelim and final examinations, but also represents an opportunity for our boys who are achieving well to improve their marks even further. A big thank you to the various staff members for sacrificing their holidays and family time to serve our boys in this way. Your efforts are truly appreciated.

Sunday sees the celebration of Father's Day – a special time of year when we have the opportunity to celebrate the fathers and father figures in our lives. To all of our dads who spent tireless hours serving our boys in the classroom, on the sports field or at home with their families, I salute you. Thank you for adding so much to the lives of Northwood boys.

The famous evangelist Billy Graham said the following about fathers and their role in society – "A good father is one of the most unsung, unpraised, unnoticed, and yet one of the most valuable assets in our society"

We would like to wish our Muslim families Eid Mubarak for tomorrow and wish you joy, peace and prosperity over the coming year.
